Herd Immunity is Inevitable: Bill DeBlaiso Rounds Up The Jews as Mike Huckabee Suggests Hitler Let Blacks and Communists Commit Violent Crime

The mayor of New York recently imposed a no tolerance policy on mass gatherings and violent protests are orthodox jews in the city. For context, New York city has the largest single population of jews in the entire world outside Israel (about 2 million total). There have been protests by jews over the lockdown measures which, among other things, seem to target religious services. If you know anything about orthodox Judaism, it is very similar to traditional Catholicism in its attendance requirements for religions services. The constitution also guarantees the right to only peacefully assemble but also to be uninhibited in the free exercise of one's religion. This is one area, the pandemic, in which the state must act decisively. Sadly, if you combine liberalism's indecisiveness and the undisciplined nature of the American population, you see how this virus will not be beaten by quarantine or other measures.

Nevertheless, the mayor decided to round up the jews, if you will. This was in response to their not only holding mass gatherings in tight quarters (e.g. synagogues), but also the violence at some of the peaceful rallies, if you can believe it. Various jews have also died as a result of Covid due to the gatherings, including a Rabbi earlier this year. Of course, ever holding jews to the same laws as everyone else will always been seen as Literally Hitler™. The Governor, Cuomo, was in complete lockstep with the mayor. Enter, Mike Huckabee:

> NY Gov Cuomo threatening to close Orthodox synagogues if they fail to obey his limits on public gatherings, & Mayor DeBlabbio is threatening to arrest Jews if they worship, but ok for masses of violent, black-clad protesters. Now, let me think, who else did that?

I'm not sure if he misspelled the last name on purpose, but I think the change is fitting. Now obviously, Mike has a point and this was my point about liberalism's indecisiveness. Since the highest moral principle of liberalism is antiracism, subject not even to bodily health, it is necessary that we hold to contradictory thoughts in our minds: that BLM/antifa protests are okay amid Covid lockdowns. One can see this is obviously nonsense. The protesters are not social distancing, they are yelling and spitting (e.g. spearing molecular germs), not to mention violently assaulting people and looting/burning down businesses. Many of the protesters were White suburban liberals no doubt, who will experience as usual none of the results of their ideology. It's not their stores, houses or neighborhoods that are getting destroyed, after all.

The conservative argument is also nonsense, since they should be pointing out the left's hypocrisy not as evidence that the lockdowns are a first step to the left installing full-blown tyranny, but as evidence that the left is not interested in science if it beguiles their antiracism. Therefore, conservatives should've been saying yes, we need lockdowns, distancing, mask wearing etc, and Democrats need to reign in the mob. But instead, they dismissed the lockdowns and other health measures as political in themselves. What is funny about what Huckabee said is that he is insinuating that Hitler would allow BLM/antifa protesters to engage in violence, after of course, baking six-million cookies. That aside, it is clear that boomers can't garner a morality divorced from the religious mythology of the Holohoax. Like with the left's penchant for violence, conservatives, when it comes to WW2, just can't help themselves.
